

JAPS SINK RUSSIAN CRUISER

CZAR'S VESSELS ARE WELL SCATTERED HEIR TO THE THRONE OF RUSSIA

LONDON, Aug. 12th—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from St. Petersburg says the Japanese armored cruiser Kasuga (formerly the Argentine warship Rivadavia) was sunk with all on board during the engagement off Port Arthur on Wednesday last.

RUSS IS IN BAD POSITION

Japanese Have Port Arthur
Fleet Completely
Scattered.

Will Destroy or Drive
Vessels Into Neutral
Ports.

Dispatches from various points today indicate that the attempt of the Russian Port Arthur squadron to reach Vladivostok failed and the vessels have become widely scattered. One torpedo-boat destroyer put into Che Foo, where she was boarded and captured by the Japanese.

The battleship Czarevitch, the cruiser Novik and a torpedo-boat have arrived at Tsingchou, at the entrance of Kai Chou bay, the German concession on the southern shore of the Shantung peninsula.

According to other dispatches, the cruiser Askold is also at Tsingchou, but advices to the German Foreign Office do not include her. Another Russian cruiser and torpedo-boat destroyer are reported as near Shanghai and four battleships are off the Saddle Islands, about seventy miles southeast of that port.

Che Foo reports say that one Russian torpedo-boat was captured off the Chinese coast and Tokio hears that a number of vessels of the squadron have returned to Port Arthur. The German Foreign Office has given instructions that the uninjured Russian warships at Tsingchou must leave port within twenty-four hours.

The Japanese system of communication has heretofore been so perfect that there can be little doubt that the Government is thoroughly informed of the position of the various vessels of the escaped fleet and will be able to either drive them into neutral ports or attack them with overwhelming force.

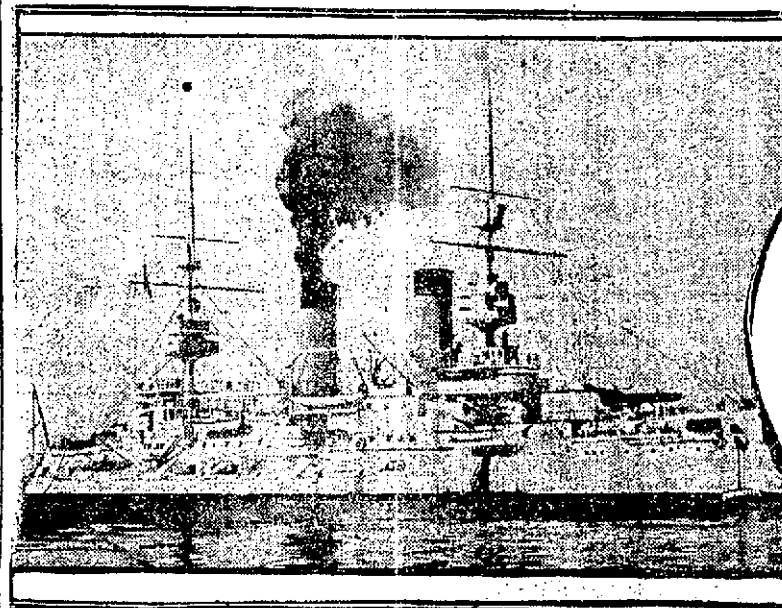

TOGO'S REPORT IS NOT TRUE.

TOKIO, August 12.—Admiral Togo reports that the Russian battleship Czarevitch was probably sunk on August 10. (This is not true, as she is at Kiau Chou bay.)

TOGO TELLS OF HIS LOSSES.

TOKIO, August 12, 5:30 p. m.—The casualties in the Japanese navy on Wednesday numbered 170.

FIERCE BATTLE ON A TORPEDO BOAT

RUSSIAN BATTLESHIP 'CZAREVITCH'

Japs Have Hand to Hand Battle and Then Seize Russian Vessel at Che Foo.

CHE FOO, Aug. 12.—Noon.—Captain Shestakovsky of the Ryeshitnei, who was wounded in the leg by a bullet, and twenty of his men were saved by boats from the Chinese cruiser Hai Yung.

Interviews with Admiral San and Captain Ching, who is in command of the Hai Yung, indicate that the Chinese naval authorities were more active than was at first supposed. When the first Japanese torpedo boat destroyer, towing the Ryeshitnei, departed to the northward the second Japanese destroyer steered a course past the flagship and the cruiser Hai Chi. The latter ordered for action and signaled to the destroyer to stop. This was done and Admiral San informed the commander of the Japanese destroyer that the Ryeshitnei must be returned, as neutrality had been flagrantly violated. To this the commander of the second destroyer replied that he would overtake the first destroyer and return to Che Foo. Admiral San accepted the word of honor of the Japanese commander and allowed him to depart.

CHINESE ADMIRAL.

The Chinese admiral is deeply chagrined at this, and is ill as a result. He has turned the command of his squadron over to Captain Ching.

Captain Ching says that when the Japanese destroyers entered the harbor of Che Foo he sent an officer on board and assured Commander Fujimoto that the Ryeshitnei was disabled and that her officers and crew had signed a parole. Later the admiral followed his messenger and personally repeated this information at length, whereupon Commander Fujimoto said he had seen no signs on the Ryeshitnei. Admiral San next sent an officer in a boat to the lightship, which was near the Ryeshitnei, to watch developments.

Captain Shestakovsky, feeling insecure, requested that his ammunition and one torpedo be returned to him, or a Chinese cruiser prepared to guard him. To this the Chinese officer on the lightship replied that he had been ordered merely to report developments. Accordingly Captain Shestakovsky assembled his crew and addressed them, saying that an attack was possible. All the men of the Ryeshitnei slept that night on deck, with life preservers under their heads.

BAYONETS FIXED.

When the Lieutenant from one of the Japanese torpedo destroyers boarded the Ryeshitnei at 3:30 o'clock in the morning the crew of the boat which brought him, with bayonets affixed to their rifles in their hands, followed. Captain Shestakovsky then secretly said, saying: "I am unable to resist, but this is a breach of neutrality and courtesy." Ryeshitnei at 3:30 o'clock in the morning, commanded one of his Lieutenants to prepare gunpowder with which to blow up the Russian destroyer. To gain the time necessary to make ready for this, Captain Shestakovsky argued international law with the Japanese Lieutenant, whose reply to all the contentions of the Russian officer invariably was: "Come to the open sea and fight or prepare to be towed out."

THE BATTLE.

In the meanwhile the command was issued quietly to the Russian sailors to resist the Japanese with their fists in the manner which would be shown them by their captain. Continuing his account of the occurrence, Captain Shestakovsky said: "The Japanese officer told me to surrender and that as a prisoner my life would be spared. This insult so stung me that I struck the Japanese before I intended to. I was afraid that the explosive to blow up our vessel had not yet been prepared. My blow knocked the Lieutenant overboard. In falling he dragged me with him. He fell into his small boat alongside, while I fell into the water. I clung to his throat and pummeled him until my hold was broken."

ALL FIGHTING.

The crew of the Ryeshitnei in the meantime had begun fighting with the Japanese sailors, who used their rifles and bayonets. The fighting men scuffled over the deck and fell overboard in struggling pairs, after the example set by their captain. Captain Shestakovsky, seeing his men fighting on the deck of the destroyer, attempted to climb back on board and command them. He was shot at four times, and while in the water received a deep wound in the right leg.

There were fifty-one Russian officers and men on board the Ryeshitnei, and up to noon thirty-five had been accounted for. A number of the Japanese attackers also is believed to have perished.

CAPTAIN SWIMS.

Being unable to regain the deck of his ship, Captain Shestakovsky swam towards a nearby junk, from which he was driven away by blows with a boat hook. He remained in the water for fifty minutes, swimming in spite of his wounds, and was finally picked up by one of the three boats sent out by the Hai Yung. Captain Ching cared for the Russian captain and two of his Lieutenants in his own cabin. The Russian sailors rescued by the boats from the Hai Yung exchanged their drenched clothing for the uniforms of Chinese sailors, in which garb they were brought ashore today to the Russian consulate.

Before leaving Che Foo, Commander Fujimoto sent an outline report of the occurrence of the night to the Japanese consul here. This report differs from that sent in by the Associated Press only in that it says: "I am unable to resist,

Big Battleship Damaged
So She Cannot Go
to Sea.

CHE FOO, August 12 (4 p. m.).—The report that two Russian cruisers and one torpedo-boat destroyer had entered the port of Tsingchou, Kai Chou bay, last night (Thursday) is confirmed. The cruisers are the Askold and the Diana, not the Novik, as previously reported. The German cruisers Furst Bismarck and Thetis are preparing to leave Che Foo for that port. Two Russian torpedo-boats are said to have been captured on the Chinese coast.

It is believed that the attempt of the Russian ships at Port Arthur to join the Vladivostok squadron has been thwarted.

VESSELS IN PORT

BERLIN, August 12.—The Foreign Office confirms the arrival last night at Tsing Chou, at the entrance of Kai Chou bay, the German cruisers on the Shan Tung peninsula, of the Russian battleship Czarevitch, not the protected cruiser Askold; the protected cruiser Novik and an unnamed torpedo-boat. The Czarevitch is in an unseaworthy condition having been damaged in Wednesday's fight.

The Foreign Office is sending instructions today to the German authorities at Tsing Chou to the effect that the Novik and the torpedo-boat must leave the harbor within the twenty-four hours prescribed by international law.

GERMANY'S STAND

BERLIN, August 12.—The government's instructions to Captain Truppel, governor of Kia Chou, which is in the jurisdiction of the navy department, although explicit in that the Novik and the torpedo boat must leave Tsing Chou within the twenty-four hours limit, do not, it is said, provide for the possible refusal of the Russian vessels to leave that port. The Czarevitch, being unseaworthy, must naturally remain in the harbor. The foreign office probably will take no further action until Admiral von Pritzwitz arrives at Kia Chou and reports on the situation.

It is suggested by an authority that if the Russian ships refuse to depart they will be required to disarm. The North German Gazette, in behalf of the government, affirms that Germany will enforce neutrality and observe international law strictly.

The other newspapers here print the news agency's dispatches without comment.

VESSELS SCATTERED

CHE FOO, August 12, 3 p. m.—An undoubted authority confirms the reports that Russian warships have arrived at Tsing Chou. He says they consist of the protected cruisers Novik and Askold and a battleship of the Czarevitch type. Two of them and one torpedo boat destroyer, he adds, are taking Cardiff coal on board.

The cruiser and one torpedo boat destroyer are now entering Shanghai. There are indications that the remainder of the Russian squadron has returned to Port Arthur. The Japanese are guarding all points.

COLLEGE GIRL WEDDED ON HIGH SEA.

MISS LAURA G. MOSHER, A GRADUATE OF THE STATE UNIVERSITY, WHO HAS DEVOTED HER LIFE TO MISSION WORK AND WHO WAS WEDDED OFF THE COAST OF AFRICA.

BERKELEY, August 12.—To be wedded on the high seas for the purpose of overcoming the strict marriage laws of West Africa, is the unique nuptial experience that recently fell to the lot of Miss Laura G. Mosher, a graduate of the University of California who has gone to Batangas to become a missionary. The details of the ceremony are now being anxiously awaited by letter by Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Mosher of 2904 Harper street, the parents of the girl, who recently came from Los Angeles to make their permanent home here.

TUG BOAT WEDDING.

The man of the brave girl's choice is Dr. Silas F. Johnson, a leading young physician of Los Angeles who has consecrated his life to the uplifting of the natives in Africa. He was on furlough when he became engaged to Miss Mosher and being compelled to precede her in the trip to the continent, arranged the tug boat wedding.

BRIDE IS WELL KNOWN.

Miss Mosher was very popular in Berkeley while taking post graduate work at the University. She graduated here in 1903, just a year after taking her degree at the Occidental College of Los Angeles. During the past year she was engaged in work at the missionary training school in Los Angeles.

GOES TO AFRICA.

It was some time ago that Miss Mosher decided to give up her life to mission work in Africa. She and Dr. Johnson were close friends and when he learned of her determination to work among the dark hued natives he proposed that they work together. Soon after the engagement had been announced, Dr. Johnson was compelled to set sail for the scene of his work and it was agreed that his bride-to-be should follow a short time afterwards.

Going to New York, Miss Mosher remained there with friends for a few weeks and then took the steamer with a party of missionaries for Liverpool, England. From there she set sail for Batangas.

CLEVERLY EVADED THE LAW.
How successfully the young couple evaded the African law which stipulates that the contracting parties must live there for a certain period before they can be married, remains to be ascertained. But the friends and relatives expect to hear that not a hitch occurred in the unique ceremony and that when they stepped off the gang plank at Batangas, they were man and wife.

HER FATHER A PIONEER MINISTER.

Unusually interesting is the fact that while the young woman goes to Africa under the auspices of the Board of Foreign Missions, that the First Presbyterian Church of Pasadena has undertaken to support her in her work. As far back as 1874, Rev. W. C. Mosher who is a pioneer California preacher, organized the church. Dr. Johnson is sent under the auspices of the Mission Board and is supported by the Emanuel Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles.

STUDY BULU LANGUAGE.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson will be located at the Eufalen Mission, eighty miles inland from Batangas, in the Kameeran mountains. In addition to being a physician and surgeon of prominence, Dr. Johnson is a scholar of considerable ability and one of the tasks that he is now essaying is the preparation of a dictionary in the Bulu language, a tongue that is spoken about Batangas.

GERMANY WOULD GIVE ADVICE.

BERLIN, August 12.—Official circles here think it probable that Turkey will ask for Germany's advice regarding the situation created by the American naval demonstration off Smyrna. Answering a direct question of the correspondent of the Associated Press as to what Germany would do in such a case, the foreign office answered that Germany would advise Turkey to at once satisfy the United States demands.

RUSSIA BADLY BEATEN

Japanese Win Every Point
in Big Sea
Fight.

Russian Warships Are
Hurrying to Reach
Shanghai.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The following cablegram was received at the State Department today from Minister Griscorn, dated Tokio, August 12: "According to latest reports received at headquarters, the Japanese fleet attacked the Russian fleet emerging from Port Arthur, to the south of Round Island, off Tollen bay. The Russian fleet, finally defeated, fled during the night. The cruisers Askold, Novik and one other and one destroyer entered Kai Chou bay on the night of the 11th; one destroyer fled to Che Foo; five battleships, one cruiser, probably the Diana, hospital ship and several destroyers returned to Port Arthur between dawn and midday of the 11th. Apparently no damage to Japanese fleet."

A cablegram also has been received from Mr. Fowler, American Consul General at Che Foo, stating that two Japanese torpedo-boats entered the harbor and attacked the Russian torpedo-boat which arrived there several days ago and dismantled, captured her and took her out.

BATTLESHIPS AT SEA.

SHANGHAI, August 12.—A Russian torpedo boat destroyer arrived here today.

It is reported that four Russian battleships are off the Saddle Islands, about seventy miles southeast of this port. Three Russian cruisers are reported to have arrived at Tsing Chou, at the entrance of Kai Chou Bay.

The Saddle Islands are about 560 miles from Port Arthur, which place the Russian squadron left at 7 A. M. Wednesday, August 10th.

Yen Tso, or Yang Tau, is a small island off the Piliot group in the Korean Gulf. It is about 110 miles northwest of Port Arthur.

ONE BOAT ARRIVES.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Consul-General Goodnow cabled the State Department to-day from Shanghai that a Russian torpedo boat destroyer had just arrived there and that four Russian cruisers were expected to-morrow.

It is understood here that if these vessels intend to remain more than twenty-four hours at Shanghai they must dismantle and remain there until the end of the war.

Probably the treaty of peace which will finally conclude the war between Russia and Japan will contain a paragraph making disposition of the Russian vessels which have thus taken refuge in Chinese waters. If Japan is the victor she probably will claim the ships; otherwise they will be again armed and returned to Russian ports.

GERMAN CRUISER

CHE FOO, August 12, 2 p. m.—The German armored cruiser, Furst Bismarck, has just left for the port of Tsing Tau, in Kiau Chou bay. Her preparations were made in the greatest haste. Private interests seeking information from Tsing Tau can get no replies as the wires are jammed with official telegrams to and from Peking.

EMPEROR HEARS THE NEWS

Pleased Because His Battleships Have Escaped.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 12.—12:00 P. M.—The Emperor has just received a long telegram from Kaituma, which is now being deciphered. The latest news that four of the Russian battleships are off Shanghai is received with great satisfaction at the Admiralty as indicating that the bulk of the squadron has escaped. The telegram to the Emperor probably contains an official account of the sea fight.

GERMAN ADMIRAL HAS SAILED.

BERLIN, August 12.—Vice-Admiral von Prittwitz, commanding the German East Asiatic squadron, telegraphed to the navy department that he sailed today from Che Foo, on board the armored cruiser Furst Bismarck for Tsing Chou. The German cruiser Sueder has sailed from Chin Wan Tao for Tsing Chou.

JAPS HAMMERING AWAY AT THE RUSSIAN STRONG-HOLD.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 12.—The Emperor has received the following dispatch from Viceroy Alexieff, dated August 11: "According to a report from the commandant at Port Arthur, the squadron put to sea August 10. The steamer Mongoolia followed the squadron. The following Japanese vessels were on the horizon: Three first-class cruisers, eight small cruisers and seventeen torpedo-boats. The port had been bombarded with siege guns for the past four days."

HEIR TO THE THRONE OF RUSSIA

ST. PETERSBURG, August 12 (2:15 p. m.)—A son and heir to the Russian throne has been born. The Empress and the child are doing well. The accouchement occurred at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon. The child will be christened Alexis.

The birth, so greatly wished for, that of an heir to the Russian crown, occurred not in the great palace of Peterhof, but in the Alexandra villa, one of a group of four small palaces in a secluded corner of the magnificent Peterhof Park. In one of these buildings the Empress had been living for weeks. The other three are occupied by members of the Imperial family, gathered there in expectation of today's event, including the Empress' mother, His Majesty's two sisters, the Grand Duchesses Xenia and Olga; his brother, Grand Duke Michael, and other relatives. The Alexandra villa is a much more private spot than the Grand Palace. The warm, brown-tinted buildings, in the corner of which rises a tall, square watch-tower, are set in a thick forest of oaks, birches and lindens, hiding them from view on every side except toward the Gulf of Finland, whose waters almost lap the foundation of the nearest shoreward building. From this section of the park the public had been excluded for days past, while a short mile down the coast children romped and shouted under the deserted windows of the big Peterhof Palace and crowds of visitors gathered each afternoon to watch the marvelous fountains second only in all Europe to those of Versailles.

The birth of the heir to the throne was attended with all the ceremonial ordained by imperial tradition. In accordance with the Russian law, there were present, besides the Emperor, Baron Fredericks, the master of ceremonies, and Prince Dolgorouky, the grand marshal of the court. Dr. Rott, the Emperor's family physician, was the accoucheur, and Dr. Hiruch was the surgeon in attendance.

Dr. Rott personally announced the birth of the heir to the awaiting Imperial family. A formal announcement will be published in the official messenger. An Imperial salute of 101 guns was subsequently fired, first from Peterhof, and it was then repeated by all the forts around St. Petersburg.

The christening of the heir will take place in a fortnight. It will be a ceremony of the most elaborate sort. In accordance with Russian Imperial custom, it will be performed in the Imperial chapel of the Peterhof Palace, credited with being the most magnificent chapel in Russia.

The Emperor and Empress of Russia (formerly Princess Alix of Hesse), who were married November 14, 1904, had previous to the birth of the child born today, four daughters—Olga, born November 3, 1895; Titiana, born May 29, 1897; Marie, born June 14, 1899, and Anastasia, born June 5, 1901.

The Emperor and Empress have for some time past, in anticipation of the event of today, been residing at Alexandra villa, at Peterhof, the summer palace of their majesties. The villa, so called, is situated on one of the most beautiful parks in Russia, about one and a half hours' ride from St. Petersburg, on the Baltic railroad, which runs north-east from St. Petersburg to the shores of the Baltic, extending as far as Riga. In the park are several lakes, at the end of which is the "golden staircase," marble steps covered with real gold. The palace is not a large building when compared with the winter palace at St. Petersburg. In the park are several other palaces occupied by different grand dukes and their suites, and in the neighborhood are many residences of the nobility and gentry.

The Queen of Greece, sister of the Dowager Empress, a great favorite with the Russians, and the other members of the Imperial family, assembled at Peterhof early last month and have been there ever since. Daily large crowds of people have also gathered at Peterhof, for it seemed as if the whole nation was drawing near to the sovereign.

The people throughout Russia, notably the clergy, have been praying for an heir to the throne, and the famous Greek priest, Father John of Cronstadt, has recently been visiting the Alexandra villa at intervals to join in the prayers for an heir to the throne of Russia. Incidentally, Father John, who is worshipped by the people and who has great influence over the Emperor, is said to have stated to His Majesty before his first daughter was born that the Emperor would have seven daughters before he would have a son, and that the eighth child of the Empress would be a son. This prophecy is firmly believed by the Russian people.

5:32 p. m.—The announcement from Peterhof was immediately followed by a salute of 101 guns from the imperial yacht lying at anchor off the palace but it was 2:45 p. m. when the guns at St. Peter and St. Paul fortress, opposite the winter palace conveyed the glad tidings to the people of the Russian capital. The effect was electrical. With the boom of the first gun the people in the streets, who had been momentarily expecting the event for twenty-four hours, stopped to listen and count the guns. Only 11 were fired for a girl. When the second boom came there were scenes of rejoicing everywhere and before the salute was finished the whole city had blossomed out with flags and bunting and the shipping in the harbor was dressed.

Then the church bells began to ring wildly. In the meantime the announcement had been telegraphed to the utmost corners of the empire. Thanksgiving services followed in all the churches. At the chapel of Alexandra villa, the Emperor and the Imperial family attended a Te Deum.

The formal announcement of the birth will be made by the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg, Moscow and Nief at solemn masses tomorrow.

In the various ministries this afternoon the officials were convoked to hear the announcement. The hearts of the Russian people are likely to be more deeply touched by the good fortune of the Imperial family than by a dozen victories or defeats in the war East and the superstitious Russian character will read in it an augury of a better time.

St. Seraphim, who was canonized last summer by the Emperor at Saragoff, has now become a favorite patron saint, as the birth of the heir is attributed chiefly to his interposition. The Emperor will sign the event by some gracious act, like the remission of arrears of taxes and amnesty and for the next two weeks until the christening there will be a holiday and public fetes of all kinds.

There is already a revival of the talk that with the accession to the throne assured, the Emperor will follow the example of the house of Romanoff and go to the front.

The heir's name will be Alexis Nikolaevitch, and if he reigns he probably will assume the title of Alexis II. The last Alexis was emperor of Muscovy in 1645.

SULTAN TO GRANT OUR DEMANDS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 11.—Naom Pasha, under-secretary for foreign affairs, called on Minister Leishman today at Therapia, a town on the Bosphorus nine miles northeast of Constantinople. He reiterated the assurances of the government regarding the speedy and favorable reply to the demands touching the rights of American citizens in Turkey. Subsequently Izzet Pasha, secretary of the Palace and minister of mines Selim Pasha had a long interview with minister Leishman for the purpose of determining upon the text of a reply which may prove acceptable to America.

RUSSIA ENTERS PROTEST BECAUSE OF SEIZURE

Declares That the Japanese Did Not Have the Right to Seize Vessel.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 12.—2:12 p. m.—The action of the Japanese torpedo boat destroyers in attacking and towing out the defenseless Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshtelint at Che Foo is regarded in diplomatic circles as being a very grave matter for Japan. As soon as the facts are officially announced no doubt Russia will promptly call the attention of the powers to this breach of neutrality of China.

Aside from the right of the injured warship to seek a sanctuary in a neutral port when not forced to do so by stress of weather or lack of coal and provisions, all the diplomats agree to the absolute illegality of belligerent ships entering a neutral port and committing hostile acts. The case, so far as the facts are known, is considered much more flagrant than that of the Japanese torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshtelint, where all the foreign commanders except the commander of the American warships protested against the proposal of the Japanese to enter and fight, the Russian cruisers Varlag and Korieltz in a neutral harbor.

It is recalled that at the opening of the Franco-Prussian war, a warship of each of the belligerents was in the harbor of Havana and they went out to try conclusions with the result that the Frenchman was crippled and sought refuge in the harbor. The German vessel, however, did not attempt to follow the French ship, which remained there to the end of the war.

The only possible justification conceived for the Japanese torpedo boat destroyers is that the Russian destroyer may have fired first upon the Japanese and afterward entered the port of Che Foo.

It is estimated that possibly Russia may represent to the powers that this act was a violation by the Japanese of the neutrality of China under the guarantee given in response to Secretary Hay's note.

The accuracy has just received a telegram from the Russian consul at Che Foo reporting the Japanese attack on the Ryeshtelint in that harbor and the towing of her off. The message says the majority of the crew survived. Captain Sheshtakovsky was severely wounded. No official reports from Tsingchow have been sent here up to this hour, and no details are obtainable of the naval engagement.

SERIOUS QUESTION.

LONDON, August 12.—The British officials and foreign diplomats regard the action of the Japanese in cutting off the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshtelint as a serious question of importance to all nations. The foreign office received this morning a despatch from the British consul at Che Foo confirming the capture of the Ryeshtelint and her captors from the harbor. The consul added that the facts were immediately reported to the Chinese government and the foreign diplomats at Peking. The former evinced considerable concern, not so much at the fact that the attack was made on the destroyer as at the precedent established ed by Japan, which Russia may follow in case of emergency, thereby extending the area of hostilities which Secretary Hay sought to circumvent.

RUSSIA'S PROTEST.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 12, 5:30 p. m.—The Associated Press is able to announce that Russia has already formally protested to Japan, through France, against the action of the Japanese torpedo boat destroyers in attacking the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshtelint at Che Foo, and towing her away from that port, and that the protest has been communicated to the powers.

This protest action is based on the official report of the Russian Consul at Che Foo, which is very explicit on the subject of the damming of the Ryeshtelint, saying that not only were the breechings of her guns and all her small arms removed, but her engines were rendered useless. The vessel was towed to the condition of a hulk. The Consul also reported that the Japanese fired on the Russian sailors while they were in the water.

While the Admiralty at this hour declares it has received no further news of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshtelint, the foreign dispatches young in have dashed the Russian hopes that the squadron had succeeded in escaping and returning to their only question of the extent of the Russian disaster.

FIERCE BATTLE ON TORPEDO BOAT

In that it does not say that the Japanese fired at the Russian sailors while the latter were in the water. It adds that the commander was acting under his admiral's orders to fight or capture the Ryeshtelint.

HE IS A HERO.

Captain Sheshtakovsky is unable to explain why his vessel was not sunk by the explosive made for that purpose. He declares that he is disgraced, although the Russian refugees here insist that he is a hero. His sailors say that he told the Japanese officer to kill him, but that he would never surrender.

The capture of Captain Sheshtakovsky's mission to Che Foo is not known, although it is doubtless important. During the interview with the Russian captain regarding the capture of his vessel it was inferred that plans and important papers were burned on board the Ryeshtelint before the Japanese boarding party arrived. The local consuls are making careful reports of the occurrence of last night to their respective governments.

NURSERYMAN ROCK BURIED.

PIONEER HORTICULTURIST IS LAID TO REST AT DECOTO.

DECOTO, August 12.—The largest funeral which ever took place in this section of the county, in which large funerals are not uncommon, accompanied to their last resting place yesterday, the remains of John Rock, the pioneer nurseryman who passed away at Niles, a few days ago in the sixty-eighth year of his age.

For nearly a mile and a half along the road were stretched wagons and carriages, all bearing people who had known and revered the deceased in life. People came from not only all parts of the county, but also all parts of the State.

The last services were simple, but impressive, when they had concluded the friends and mourners returned to their homes regretting that a career which had accomplished so much that was good should come to a close.

John Rock was the most distinguished of the pioneer nurserymen of this State and section. It was he who started the California nursery at Niles, which has grown to such proportions and which is known in every part of the country. At first, the task was difficult and the burden onerous, but, with perseverance, on the part of the projector, who succeeded in arousing enthusiasm among brother horticulturists, the enterprise became a remarkable success.

Although Mr. Rock had nearly reached the age of three-score and ten, still, it is believed that he would have survived many more years, had it not been for an ailment which he contracted in the Civil war and which warred with his general health ever since that time.

Mr. Rock has left an enduring monument to his name in the nursery which, to-day, is the admiration of every traveler who passes by Niles in this county.

CHANCELLOR VISITS EMPEROR.

BERLIN, August 12.—Chancellor von Quelow, who came to Berlin to see Emperor William yesterday, returned today to Norderny Island, Hanover, where he is spending his vacation. This is interpreted to mean that he does not regard the arrival of Russian warships at Kia Chou as being a serious incident, as otherwise he would remain here or join the Emperor at W. Wehlhorn.

GLOBE TROTTER WILL LEAVE FOR HOME.

CHARLES M. BOLLMAN.

Charles M. Bollman, a traveler and his sister, Miss Bollman, both of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Emma Oudry, of 1323 Chestnut street, this city, have announced their intention of returning to their home in the East in a short time.

Mr. Bollman is a noted musician in the East, but during the last few years, he has spent the greater part of his time traveling in foreign lands. In his travels he was generally accompanied by his sister, who is also an accomplished musician.

Mr. Bollman reports having a very enjoyable time during his stay in this city, where both he and his sister made many friends, who will miss them very much. Although Mr. Bollman has traveled in many lands and seen some of the world's most beautiful spots, he says that none of them can equal California. As soon as they arrive in Pittsburg, where Mr. and Miss Bollman have a beautiful home on Murray Hill, they will make preparations for a trip to Europe.

WILL C. WALLACE WRITES ANGRY LETTER TO POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Will C. Wallace of the Realty Syndicate has written the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners a letter, in which he states that it is impossible for him to get proper police protection for his residence and grounds at Forty-fifth and Telegraph avenue. He alleges that his fence has been taken away by hoodlums and others, who resort to his place for all manner of evil purposes.

Within the last three days, says Mr. Wallace, hoodlums have grown so bold that they refused to leave the grounds when requested to do so and made threats of burning the house if they were molested. Added to these threats the letter continues, are insults and affronts given to the ladies of the household when they stroll in the grounds.

"I have communicated with the police by telephone and in person," says Mr. Wallace, "and to my personal knowledge there has been only one officer who has responded to my requests for protection. A taxpayer should be entitled to police protection whether he is behind a picket fence or a bank building."

After stating that his grounds are used as a rendezvous for rackets and hoodlums of a vicious sort Mr. Wallace concludes by saying: "If your board will officially acknowledge that it is powerless to prevent the lawless depredation and injuries to my property I will rely upon my own resources. I can, and will, protect myself, as I have repeatedly done in even more lawless communities."

The communication will be taken up by the Board this afternoon.

ALAMEDA NOTES.

ALAMEDA, August 12.—Work was commenced yesterday afternoon removing the remains of the horses incinerated in the fire that destroyed the Graham stables last night.

The work is being prosecuted by the city. It has been learned that the insurance on the stables is very little and the loss to the owner will therefore be great.

Two firemen of the Sherman Hose Company, the Dillon brothers, were slightly burned.

MAYOR SAYS THE BONDS WILL CARRY.

Declares That the Time is Ripe for Improvements in Oakland.

Mayor Olney and the City Council will devote the next six weeks to advocating the proposed bond issue. A systematic campaign will be made. The feeling in official circles is that the bonds will carry with ease.

There are nearly $3,000,000 worth of bonds to be issued. These will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum and will run forty years. The success with which the Board of Education met in disposing of a million dollars' worth of bonds leads the city fathers to the belief that three times that amount of paper will be taken up all the more quickly. One of the reasons advanced why the bonds will sell at 4 per cent rapidly is that they do not have to pay taxes and that the entire amount of interest is net.

"Public sentiment is gradually favoring the issuance of bonds," said Mayor Olney. "I believe that the present time is more auspicious for the carrying of the bonds than at any earlier date. Before the last of September is reached all the persons on their vacation will have returned and we will have a good, full vote. I think that the civic pride of Oakland is sufficiently great to make the bonds carry with heavy majorities. "Every section of the city has been provided for in the issue. This should insure the united support of all classes. I think that the work of the city has been well done and the projects before the people are such that they will command attention and respect. The system of parks will make Oakland one of the most beautiful cities on the Pacific Coast.

"There is one reason why the certain improvements should be made at this time and that is the city will never be able again to buy as cheaply as at the present time. It will be a different matter entirely ten years from now when Oakland has possibly doubled its present population to acquire property for parks. If the city buys now, it will get the benefit of the increase of the value of property just as much as if it remained in the hands of private persons.

"From the expressions of opinion which I have heard from many quarters, I have full confidence that the citizens of this city will vote for the bonds and will see that they carry with a large majority."

TRUST WILLS ARE DANGEROUS.

ANOTHER TESTAMENT IS LIKELY TO BE DECLARED INVALID.

The danger of attempting to tie up property in trust wills is again being demonstrated before the courts in the matter of the estate of the late Adeline M. Sayle, who died leaving a small estate of $5,000, which she desired her two sisters, Mrs. Helen E. Pierce and Mrs. Lucien T. Gardner to have the use of during their lives, and which should then pass to her grandson, Guthrie Sayle Courvoisier.

Without passing upon the points in the case, Judge Ogden has given his official opinion that the will is invalid and by the right of descent, the grandson of deceased, a lad under fourteen years of age, will inherit before his aunts and deprive them of what was intended for them.

The point was raised a few days ago when Charles Christensen, the executor of the will, petitioned for a distribution of the estate under the provisions of the will, the property to go into the trust of Thomas H. West.

Mrs. Sayle died on October 10, 1903, and no doubt of the validity of the will had been raised until the petition asking for the distribution of the estate came up before Judge Ogden. When about to make the formal order he asked to see the will and upon reading it made a statement that he thought the will was invalid owing to the trust clause it contained. The attorney for the minor, Guthrie C. Courvoisier, happened to be in court at the time and, struck by the statement, asked that the matter go over for one week and this morning filed a bulky contest to the probating of the

THE GREAT KIDNEY PILLS

BRAVE MAN BATTLE AT THE THROTTLE WITH A PRISONER

Engineer Saved Train by Remaining at His Post. Notorious Bandit Kills Himself After Being Wounded.

BASIN, Montana, Aug. 11.—A dreadful accident to the Great Northern passenger train was averted only by a miracle today. As the West-bound train was bowling along at a good speed toward Butte the front truck of the engine jumped the track just as the train was nearing the high trestle west of Boulder. The engineer instantly threw on the air brakes, but could not stop the train. The train jumped before the train reached the trestle. The engineer stuck to his engine.

The hind trucks of the engine remained on the track and carried the train across the trestle in safety. The trestle at that point is eighty feet high and had the engine not struck to the track a frightful accident would have occurred.

HARRIMAN IS INTERESTED

OWNS HALF THE STOCK IN THE NEW CLARK ROAD.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 11.—Regarding the hitherto unsettled question as to whether the Harriman interests are concerned in the ownership of the Salt Lake Railroad or not W. F. McCormick, a well known banker of Salt Lake City, and a director in the Salt Lake Railway Company, stated today in an interview that it is an open secret that the Harriman and Clark people are interested jointly half of the stock of the road.

JUDGE PARKER READS PAPER.

ESOPUS, N. Y., August 11.—Judge Parker read with interest today the newspapers which came to Rosemount, noting especially the comments on his speech of acceptance. He had nothing to say regarding them. He went for a horseback ride during the morning, accompanied by a carriage in which was a party of his guests. During the ride about the grounds there were no calls of importance during the morning and it was said at Rosemount that none were expected today.

NEW HOTEL

SAN JOSE, August 11.—Articles of incorporation of the Hotel Nobil Company were filed today. The company will build a modern hotel in the town of Santa Clara. The capital stock is $75,000 of which $25,000 is subscribed.

HELENA, Mont., August 11.—Isaac Gravelle, on trial for robbing the powder house near Helena last September, of plant powder, which was used in wrecking Northern Pacific trains, escaped from the Lewis and Clark county jail this afternoon after probably fatally shooting Tony Korizek, a deputy sheriff.

Pursued by deputies and John Raab, a butcher who was armed, Gravelle fled, firing as he ran. After exchanging several shots Gravelle ran into the basement of the Governor's house where he shot and killed himself. He had been wounded by bullets from the guns of his pursuers.

The escape took place at 2 o'clock as Gravelle was about to be led from the jail to the court room. In the county building across the street Deputy Sheriff Korizek and Jailer Jones were in the office when the former led Gravelle out of the cell room. Suddenly Gravelle pulled a revolver and pointed it at the deputy. The latter made a move toward his gun and Gravelle fired twice at him, both bullets taking effect. One struck Korizek in the breast a few inches from his heart. Jones was not armed and threw up his hands. Gravelle ordered the jailer to open the door of the jail, which he did. He then walked deliberately out of the jail and into the street corner, thirty feet away. By that time the sheriff's deputies began to appear and one shot was fired from the court house. Gravelle then ran one block eastward, where he tried to mount a horse that happened to be hitched there. He was too hotly pressed, however, and continued down an alley to Fifth avenue down which he was chased by Raab, who had joined in the pursuit. Turning down Sixth avenue, a moment later, Gravelle took refuge in the alley beside Governor Toole's house, from where he emptied his revolver at Raab.

Raab and Deputy Sheriff Spurgeon fired 11 shots at Gravelle there and the escaping prisoner, wounded, ran into the basement of the Governor's house, where he blew out his brains.

Gravelle was convicted five months ago of sending threatening letters to officials of the Northern Pacific of whom he demanded $50,000. It was proven that he had dynamited Northern Pacific trains and property in an effort to blackmail the company.

He was captured after a long campaign, that of the Northern Pacific $50,000. He was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Gravelle had been in the penitentiary twice before. He was a range rider and cattle rustler and was regarded as a desperate and dangerous man.

Sheriff O'Connell does not know how Gravelle got his gun, but believes it was smuggled in to him by a trusty or a visitor, and he may have had it for days.

After Gravelle had shot the deputy sheriff in the jail office he took the officer's gun and it was with that weapon that he did most of the shooting at the house of the Governor.

HE TOOK HIS LIFE

Stranger From New York Dies by the Gas Route.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—E. Essell, who registered from New York, committed suicide by asphyxiation at the Grand Hotel and his dead body was discovered at noon today.

The hotel people claim not to know anything about the dead man except that he arrived from the East on July 25. He is described as 30 years of age and apparently well-to-do.

He had a card to the Bohemian Club and asked to have his mail sent there. An inquiry at the secretary's office was barren of information.

The dead man resigned from the army some time ago and lived in New York. He was a widower with two children. His parents are alive and live in New York.

NO NEWS OF THE BATTLE.

CZAR IS WAITING TO HEAR FROM HIS SHIPS.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 11, 5:30 p. m.—The news of the departure of the Port Arthur squadron, printed in extra issues of the newspapers, created the keenest interest among the people in the streets.

The officials here are unable to make out clearly from the dispatches whether Admiral Witteford broke through the Japanese investing fleet and the utmost anxiety prevails upon this point.

No fresh news has been received from the front.

An official dispatch gives details of the skirmishing near Tsiachan, 36 miles south of Simanai, reported in the Associated Press dispatches from Simanai, where the Russian force was commanded by Col. Medvedoff, the noted leader of irregulars, but does not change the general situation, except in recording the fact that the weather has cleared up after three days continuous rain.

WAITING FOR THE ANSWER.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—The State Department has heard nothing from Minister Leishman at Constantinople since last Monday, when he cabled that the Porte had promised to see that he received by today the Sultan's answer to his representations touching the rights of American citizens in Turkey.

If today's engagement is not kept the department probably will send additional instructions to Mr. Leishman as soon as he officially reports the breach of faith. In that event he is expected to go to Smyrna to communicate personally with the Jewish Jewell, commanding the European squadron and perhaps to take up his quarters aboard the flagship Olympia, thus marking a diplomatic crisis.

Since the night of the trouble Jacquot, the complaining witness, has disappeared, and all efforts to locate him have been of no avail. Notwithstanding this District Attorney Allen believed that the case was strong enough against Hass to convict him and is proceeding with the trial.

AUTOS ARRIVE

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11.—The automobile tour which started in the East and ended here began on July 25th with one hundred and twenty-two starters. Of this number sixty-three machines made the trip and fifty-nine fell by the wayside. The longest distance covered was between Boston and St. Louis, 2,086 miles. The number of persons who made the trip, starting from various points, was 238.

Comparatively few accidents are reported to have happened along the route.

FLEXEL-MARQUES TROUBLE ENDED.

The trouble between Antonio Marques and Peter Flexel over the ownership of a saloon at Seventh and Kirkham streets has been settled out of court. Marques alleged that he had bought a half interest in the place and that when business began to pick up a little Flexel threw him out. Flexel states that Marques paid him $100 and was to purchase a stock of liquors for the place which he failed to do. After waiting a certain length of time for him to fulfill his contract Flexel ordered Marques out of the place. The matter has been compromised and a stipulation was filed with the County Clerk today dismissing the action begun by Marques. Flexel it is understood has paid back to Marques what money he put into the place.

JURY IS OUT.

In the case of Joseph Perata, charged with violating the scavenger ordinance the jury retired this afternoon for deliberation on the verdict.

PASTOR TO GIVE BATTLE

Refuses to Leave Cripple Creek as Demanded.

CRIPPLE CREEK, August 11.—Rev. Thomas Leland, pastor of the Victor Methodist Church who was warned last night by masked men to leave the Cripple Creek district, declared today that he intended to remain and would resist any mob that attacked him.

"I hope forcible resistance will not be necessary," he said, "but I am forced to defend myself. I will not appeal to the sheriff for assistance."

Mr. Leland is well known throughout the West as the "Cowboy preacher." He had taken no part in the industrial struggle here up to last month. Then he became outspoken in his opposition to the lawlessness engendered by the so-called law and order movement, and was ordered to leave the district by the city authorities on July 19, 1901, ordering the city authorities to enforce the prohibition of his presence.

CEMETERY SUIT DISMISSED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The suit brought by the Laurel Hill Cemetery Association was dismissed today in the Supreme Court.

An appeal was taken some time ago by the city of San Francisco to dissolve an injunction issued by Judge Hebbard on July 19, 1901, ordering the city authorities to refrain from enforcing the city ordinance which prohibited burial of the dead within the city limits.

COAST DEALERS GET BUSINESS

MERCHANTS WILL BE GIVEN A CHANCE TO SELL THEIR GOODS.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—The Federal authorities have announced their intention to have all the clothing used by the officers and crews of the revenue cutter service on the Pacific Coast manufactured and supplied by dealers on this coast.

With that object in view the government will shortly publish a statement of the supplies required.

CHINESE TAKES HIS LIFE.

FEARED HE WOULD BE KILLED BY HIGHBINDER.

STOCKTON, Cal., August 11.—Fearful that he was soon to meet a violent death at the hands of highbinder, Lee, a Chinaman in the employ of M. L. Kaiser, at 127 North Tutter street, hanged himself. The boy was found today by Alex. Kaiser, suspended to a rafter in the basement. It is believed that Lee committed the act Tuesday. Several days ago the Chinaman disclosed the fact that his life had been threatened by highbinder. Underneath his pillow was found a new hatchet, showing that he was prepared to defend himself. Recently he cut off his queue, and this caused the displeasure of his countrymen, who threatened to take his life.

TWO MEN INJURED AT BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Aug. 11.—While painting the steel structure of the Hearst Memorial Mining Building this afternoon, two workmen, John Connolly of Sixth street, San Francisco, and Thos. Fay of 32 Fourth street, San Francisco, fell from the third floor, sustaining injuries which may prove fatal in one instance.

Connolly was injured internally in addition to a dislocated right hip. Fay was injured about the head. The scaffolding broke and the men were precipitated to the floor below.

CHINESE BANDITS ARE DARING

LIAO YANG, August 11.—While no fighting occurred in eastern front, a remarkably heavy movement of Japanese northward has been reported. The Japanese seem to be trying a turning movement on Tan Tai or Mukden.

The Chinese bandits are becoming exceedingly bold. They attacked a party of Russian scouts from a Japanese house near the Yantai mines and 100 of them fell upon the military telegraph station, but were driven off. The daring of the bandits is attributed to the proximity of the Japanese.

LABORER KILLED

SAN JOSE, August 11.—Antonio Cancelli, an Italian laborer, was thrown from his wagon today and killed. His horse shied at a street car and the wagon seat fell off, taking Cancelli with it. He leaves a wife and children.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cooney, wife of ex-Policeman Thomas Cooney, is insane. This afternoon a warrant was issued for her arrest. An officer went to her residence on Kirkham street, between Eighth and Ninth, in order to place her in restraint.

Ex-Police Officer Thomas Cooney committed suicide at his home by taking poison. His wife now imagines that she is accused of poisoning her husband. She will probably be sent to an insane asylum.

CEMETERY SUIT DISMISSED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The suit brought by the Laurel Hill Cemetery Association was dismissed today in the Supreme Court.

REMILLARD WILL FILE FOR PROBATE.

The last will of the late Peter N. Remillard was filed for probate today with the County Clerk. It disposes of property valued upwards of $100,000. The deceased was largely interested in the Remillard Brick Company and was one of the owners of the yards at Green Brae, Pleasanton and Baden.

The entire estate is left to the widow Cordule Remillard and it is expressly stated that no provision is made for Philip H. Emma and Lillian Remillard, the children, as deceased states he has implicit confidence in his wife's ability and goodness to her children to make provision for them. He also recommends to her care his mother, Mary Remillard whom he states is getting old and in her latter years may need aid. He, however, states that it is not to be understood that the estate is to be burdened with her care. Philip Remillard has died since the will was executed.

LEWIS NIXON IN ST. PETERSBURG

ST. PETERSBURG, August 11.—The Associated Press learns that Lewis Nixon, of New York, who has been in St. Petersburg for several days, came here at the request of the Russian authorities, and that negotiations are progressing between the admiralty and Mr. Nixon, but whether for the sale of ships, machinery or what is not known. Mr. Nixon is going to Sebastopol Friday to confer with the commander of the Black Sea fleet.

SOLDIERS HOLD MEETING.

ST. LOUIS, August 11.—A reunion of the army of the Philippines began today on the Philippine reservation, at least 1000 members of the society from various parts of the United States being present. A session for the consideration of routine business was held in the Varsity Theater, with General Charles King, the president, in the chair, and Albert E. Fout of St. Louis, the secretary, present, with other officers.

ST. The Knights of Father Matthew is one of the strongest organizations affiliated with the union, being the only one which has an insurance department. The proposed plan for the affiliation met with opposition.

ST. LOUIS, August 11.—The fourth day's session of the International Typographical Union convention opened with the presentation of a proposition requiring all local unions to report to the President the number of days that organizers have attended the meetings of the unions. This attempt to renew yesterday's discussion of a fractional disbursement in Indianapolis was after a time suppressed and the convention listened to the resumption of the report of the committee on laws.

The committee on laws reported unfavorable upon a proposition submitted to declare foremen ineligible as delegates or delegates to a convention.

Further consideration of the report of the committee on laws was temporarily postponed and the convention adjourned on the next meeting place. There were only two cities in the field for this honor or Columbus, Ohio and Toronto, Canada. Toronto was selected by a vote of 107 to 64.

The following proposition was introduced and referred to the committee on resolutions: "Resolved, That it is the sense of the International Typographical Union that the part of the constitutional obligation for members which declares 'that my fidelity to the union and my duty to the members shall be such as to interfere with by any allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any other secret or otherwise, political or religious, and does not conflict with or restrict any member's allegiance to the church of choice is recognized by this body that the efforts of the church and the efforts of the true labor union do not conflict, but are collaborative."

MOST MISERABLE OF MEN.

(London Times) Entombed in a grimy cell on the outskirts of Lisbon are some of the most miserable of men on earth. These are the inmates of Portugal, a prison of silence. In this building everything that human ingenuity can suggest to render the lives of its prisoners a horrible mad-dened torture is done. The corridors, piled tier on tier five stories high, extend from a common "center like the spokes of a wheel to the cells. The cells are narrow—tombs—and within each stands a coffin. The attendants creep about in felt slippers. No one is allowed to utter a word. The silence is that of the grave. Once a day the cell doors are unlocked and the half-punished wretches are taken out, clothed in shrouds and with faces covered by masks, for it is a part of this hideous punishment that they may look upon the countenances of his fellow-prisoners. Few of them endure this torture for more than ten years.

Apathy at Primary Elections

The problem of getting the voters to attend primary elections becomes more acute with time. It is obvious that citizens are no longer deterred from voting at primary elections because of rowdiness at the polls. As a rule, primary elections as conducted under the existing law, are, if anything, more orderly than regular elections. Men can now vote as they please without interference, with the full knowledge that their votes will be fairly counted. Yet only an exceptional contest involving purely personal and local issues will bring out anything like a considerable vote. A much smaller proportion of citizens vote at the primaries now than voted at them under the go-as-you-please system in vogue a dozen years ago. The election in San Francisco furnishes a striking example of how primary voting is neglected. With factional fights in all the parties, a total of less than 18,000 votes were cast out of a registration exceeding 50,000. Fully 35,000 citizens entitled to vote would not take the trouble to register in time to be qualified to vote at the primary. Thus the nomination and practically the final election of every official to be voted for in the city next November was decided in a moot election in which only about twenty per cent of the qualified voters participated. The press and party organizations labored in vain to get citizens to the polls. Some of the reasons given by so-called "good citizens" for neglecting to vote are instructing. Said one, speaking of his party organization, "Oh, they are all right; I'll stand for what they do in the main, but if they put up somebody I don't like I'll vote for a fellow on some other ticket." The other said, also speaking of his party organization, "Oh, they've got everything fixed, and it is no use to vote; I don't like what they are doing, but I will only take so much of the program on election day." In both cases personal apathy and indifference were given as excuses for party disloyalty. One staid away from the primary because his party organization was all right, while the other staid away because his party had things fixed up in a way he did not like. Neither tried to impress his views and sentiments on party action or the selection of candidates. Both serenely contemplated bolting his ticket in part on election day. The cases are typical of more than half the voters. Yet such men are the first to complain about the character of men nominated for office.

Judge Parker's announcement that he will not be a candidate for a second term is superfluous. He will not be elected to the first one.

An anonymous correspondent who signs himself "Junius," and who says he "speaks for the people," demands to know why THE TRIBUNE does not publish letters from "the people." We do—only "Junius" is not the people, nor are we given any authority for his assumption to speak for the people. Besides, we do not print anonymous communications unless the writers give their names and addresses as a guarantee of good faith. Furthermore, "Junius" makes a number of unsupported charges against reputable persons and indulges in personal detraction to a degree that THE TRIBUNE declines to abet. Lastly, THE TRIBUNE does not keep a window from which sneaks can dump verbal slops on passers-by. Our Tooley-street correspondent had better compose himself and go to sawing wood or digging potatoes.

An exchange inquires how it comes that the daughters of both Judge Parker and Mr. Davis came to marry Republicans. Easy enough, the bright young men of the present day are all Republicans. The young men of this age do not find the Democratic party attractive.

The Democratic managers promised Judge Parker a fine day for his notification, but they evidently failed to consult the clerk of the weather. But the rain at Esopus on Wednesday was nothing to the snowfall thereabouts next November.

After belaboring President Roosevelt for more than a year, the New York Sun suddenly switches around to his support, ostensibly. Somehow, we doubt the sincerity of this sudden change of front. We do not like the reasons given for it nor the manner in which they are stated. The Sun is controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan and his associates, and is more closely identified with the trust interests than any other newspaper in the country. It may be part of a Machiavellian policy to have the Sun ostensibly support Roosevelt in compromising statements while the trusts are actually backing Parker. You can't always tell precisely for whom the Sun is shining.

For the Freedom of the Sea

Secretary Hay has joined with Lord Lansdowne, the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in notifying Russia that the decision of the Vladivostok prize court to the effect that foodstuffs consigned to non-blockaded ports of a belligerent nation are contraband of war. In doing so he draws a clear distinction between foodstuffs consigned to private individuals for commercial purposes and foodstuffs consigned to the government or agents of a belligerent nation. The latter are admittedly contraband.

The prize court's decision cannot be accepted as authoritative for two reasons. First, the prize court is a creature and partisan of the Russian government. Second, it is guided in its findings, not by the provisions of general international law, but by the declarations of the Russian government defining what is contraband of war. The Russian government having declared foodstuffs to be contraband, the prize court decided accordingly.

But neither Great Britain nor the United States has ever assented to Russia's declaration on this point, and hence cannot accept as valid a decision of a Russian prize court upholding the declaration. The court could not declare the edict of its own government as unlawful. For entirely different reasons neither the United States nor Great Britain can assent to placing foodstuffs on the contraband list.

Great Britain is the largest buyer of foodstuffs in the world, and the United States the largest seller. Consequently, by assenting to the Russian claim England would be cutting herself off from her food supply in time of stress, while the United States would be depriving this country of a market when it is most lucrative. Thus England and our own country have a common interest in resisting a contention which is not only new, but has never yet been assented to by any civilized nation. Food has never been considered as contraband unless it was intended for the use in military operations of the government of a nation at war.

The question is a vital one for Great Britain. That country is largely dependent upon other nations for food, and the supply must be transported entirely by ship, since the British Isles are surrounded, as Japan is, by water. As a matter of self preservation, in time of war, Great Britain must therefore maintain the position that foodstuffs are immune from seizure on the high seas. And the doctrine is an entirely sound one, too, for the seas are common territory to all nations, and commerce on them should be inviolate unless it is of a character that directly assists the military operations of belligerents.

Russia occupies an anomalous and inconsistent attitude on the contraband question, for she has vigorously protested against coal being regarded as contraband. Now coal is not necessary to life, but it is absolutely necessary to naval operations. So Russia wishes to deprive Japan of the right to receive food but wishes to retain for herself the right to receive coal. Neutral nations engaged in commerce cannot consent to rules so unfair and so entirely dictated by self interest. In this Secretary Hay is standing for principles of equity as well as for the commercial freedom of the seas.

The Outlook for Senator Bard

The result of the primaries affords an opportunity to arrive at the measure of the probable strength Senator Bard will be able to muster in the Republican caucus. South of Tehachapi he will be outvoted almost two to one by Frank P. Flint, who will have at least twelve of the Assemblymen and Senators from Los Angeles County. Bard cannot get more than three, probably not more than one, as the County Convention will instruct positively for Flint.

But giving Bard three votes from Los Angeles, the three from the Orange-Riverside district, and the three from the Ventura-Santa Barbara district, which is all he can hope for south of Kern, and his total in the district commonly known as Southern California will only be nine, as against sixteen for Flint and Oxnard, as the representatives from San Diego and San Bernardino will be anti-Bard in any event. In Kern and Tulare counties the Republican conventions instructed the Assembly nominees for Bard; but Tulare is sure to return a Democrat, and in Kern the chances are not more than even for a Republican. Hence Bard can only hope for but one vote from those two counties.

Senator Rowell of Fresno is for Bard and the two Assembly nominees will be instructed. Should both be elected his total will be raised to fourteen.

Belshaw, of Contra Costa, is counted for Bard, but the Assemblymen from Marin and Contra Costa will be the other way. If, as is now stated, Senator Flint will not run again in the San Joaquin-Monterey-San Luis district, he will be succeeded by Henry L. Finch, an anti-Bard man. The delegations from San Joaquin and Sacramento will be solidly against Bard, who may get a Senator and one Assemblyman in the Placer-Nevada district. Giving him these, his total vote in the caucus will be only seventeen, unless he can get some from Santa Clara and San Francisco, which seems unlikely. Furthermore, at least three of the legislative candidates instructed for Bard have been instructed against their will, and only conform in a formal way to their instructions.

Keeping these facts in view, one is at loss to see how Bard can expect to win. There will be at least four candidates before the caucus, but three of them represent elements opposed to the re-election of the Ventura man, and when the inevitable dropping out occurs, the anti-Bard strength is sure to center on some one candidate. It may fairly be presumed from the present outlook, that at least 80 members of the Legislature will answer the Republican caucus roll call. How is it possible for Senator Bard with a probable strength of 17 to get the nomination? Even if he had 20 he would be in a hopeless minority. Apparently his candidacy has reached its apogee.

General Kuropatkin has again escaped from the Japanese cordon by abandoning his position and retreating northward. It does not seem to require much military strategy to run away.

Apparently Mr. Frank E. Dunlap of Stockton has discovered that doing politics under the auspices of Martin Kelly was not taken as a title to favor by the voters of San Joaquin county. Although pledged to Senator Perkins by the convention which nominated him, Mr. Dunlap allowed himself to be made the candidate for speaker of the last Assembly of a political combine that had for its object the defeat of the senior Senator. A leader in that combine was Martin Kelly, who always carries a large stock of goods for the body ephemerically styled the Third House. Mr. Dunlap exerted his influence to prevent the calling of a caucus to nominate a Republican candidate for the Senate. His political bedfellows and his shifty course carry their own inference, and carried it, we should judge, convincingly to the minds of a majority of the Republicans of San Joaquin county.

In San Francisco the McNabites allege that the Republican leaders worked and voted their personal followers for the Democratic ticket. The Democratic Leaguers insist that a large number of Republicans voted the McNab Democratic ticket. These statements are extraordinary, in view of the fact that the vote for the Republican ticket exceeded by 2000 the combined vote of the two Democratic factions, which only aggregated 7200 votes. Where were the Democrats? Either they are mighty scarce in San Francisco or somebody is doing a deal of rank lying.

An Unfortunate Designation

There is much in a name. Names suggest ideas, and ideas come to the mind in broad association with other ideas. Ca-ch-words and phrases do much to form opinions.

California has been designated as the land of sunshine, fruit and flowers, and the designation is so mellifluous as to rise readily to the tongue and tempt the platitudinous instinct of the orator. But the association of sunset with the Pacific Coast, and especially with California, is unfortunate. Some traffic handler, with more poetry than judgment, thought he had encountered a very happy appellation, and so he put a bell on it and put it into a corral, where it has been jingling "sunset" in every possible association.

"Sunset" is pensive, heavy-eyed and sleepy; it is the "hour of sweet repose"; it is the close of day; it is associated with relaxation of energy, the cessation of toil, the suspension of activity. The perpetual association of the sunset period with California is unconsciously injurious to the State. It would have been about as well to have named the line of road from New Orleans to San Francisco the "Bedtime Route" as to have given it the appellation of "Sunset."

Because of its misleading association of ideas, we protest against this "damnable iteration" of "Sunset" as applied to the State of California.

The Town Trustees of Sausalito have adopted a practical scheme for improving the streets of the town. They have levied a special road tax of a dollar a head, payable by every male citizen, the money to be devoted to making improvements that will add to the attractiveness of the streets. The scheme strikes us as a good one. No citizen should object to paying a trifling tax levied for so commendable a purpose. While head taxes are obnoxious as a rule, the Sausalito tax is one to be approved. It is not intended to be permanent, but has been resorted to as a temporary expedient for a most worthy object. It is in accordance with public spirit and progressive sentiment. Its effect will be exceedingly beneficial to Sausalito.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN IF BRIGHT'S DISEASE AND DIABETES ARE NOT NOW BEING CURED BY FULTON'S COMPOUND?

Late reports just received: R. S. Fowler, prominent druggist, Buffalo, N. Y. "I have to report two recent cures as follows: L. V. Drake, Diabetic, and Robert E. Colbeck, Bright's Disease." E. T. Snow, 1815 Columbia Ave., Philadelphia. "Mr. William Mayne of this city has been cured of Bright's Disease by the Compound. He is to visit San Francisco in September and I have given him a letter to you."

Union Manufacturing and Agency Co., 359 Collins St., Melbourne, Australia. "We have four patients on the Diabetes Compound and in all the cases steady improvement is reported."

We last week published the remarkable report from Auburn, N. Y., that Mrs. R. L. Lester Bell of that city had just successfully passed an examination for life insurance. In May, 1893, she was in the Auburn Hospital, so swollen with dropsy as the result of chronic Bright's Disease that her death was expected hourly when she was put on Fulton's Renal Compound with the above happy result.

Recovery in Bright's Disease and Diabetes is now so common that they are no longer exciting comment from our agents, who simply report the facts as above in a few words as possible. R. S. Fowler is one of Buffalo's responsible business men. E. T. Snow is an ex-president of the Art Association of Philadelphia, the Union Manufacturing and Agency Co. is a prosperous Melbourne concern, and Mrs. Bell is the wife of an Auburn business man and the above facts can be absolutely relied upon. Fulton's discovery is waking up the whole country.

We again proclaim to the world the curability of Chronic Bright's Disease and Diabetes. About 87 per cent of all cases are curable by the Fulton compound. Send for literature and list of agents. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 405 Washington Street, San Francisco, sole compounders.

When to suspect Bright's Disease—puffy ankles or hands—weakness without visible cause—kidney trouble after thin meals—frequent urination—swooning—falling vision—drowsiness—one or more of them.

ORGANIZE TO COMBAT VACCINATION LAW

Berkeley Citizens Hold a Large Mass Meeting at Which Wilbur Walker of Oakland Speaks.

BERKELEY, August 12.—The protest against the compulsory vaccination of school children took definite form and organization at a well attended mass meeting held last night in this city. A permanent organization was effected with the following officers: Dr. W. W. Allen, president; Mrs. E. C. Campbell, secretary; J. S. Witt, treasurer. These officers were instructed to co-operate with similar organizations throughout the State for the purpose of carrying on a definite campaign looking to the repeal of the vaccination law.

C. F. Luzen, who was the first speaker, said:

"I am here for the purpose of offering myself in protest against the law which has been enacted by the Legislature. It is enough to make the blood of an American boil with rage. My children have been turned out of the public schools of Oakland because I would not submit to the tyrannical laws. I am leading a vigorous fight against the law in Oakland and since I have taken it upon my shoulders, I have received a great deal of help. We have been circulating a petition for the past few days and it has been largely signed. When I do go to various places to have this petition signed I hear some pitiful stories of vaccination.

"There is a means by which this compulsory vaccination may be overcome. Everyone should come to these meetings and show themselves. If we wanted to fool these eminent doctors we could turn the arm of our child with a drop of nitric acid and the best doctor could not tell it from the mark of virus. I know of one case where a man was carefully examined by doctors of a Board of Health and declared to be perfectly vaccinated. The mark, however, was caused by the bite of a cat. This goes to show that the doctors do not always know what they are talking about.

"Physicians do not know what the virus is made of. They only know the name of the company. They make an enormous profit and are happy."

"Down in Oakland two eminent physicians told me that I was crazy and would be in the asylum inside of six months. Well, if I do go there, a good many anti-vaccinationists will go there with me."

Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland said: "I have no quarrel with persons who believe in vaccination, but I have a quarrel with the man who tries to make me believe in it."

"We argue that the law compels the sending of children to schools and to public places and that it excludes those that are sickly or have contagious diseases. Now as our children are healthy we think that there is no law that can exclude them. I think that if this point was raised in the courts that we would get a favorable decision."

"When people die the doctors never say that death was due to the virus and not the vaccination. I buried a child from vaccination. I don't want any more of it. The law is not consistent. It excludes children from the public schools and yet permits them to go to private schools, to Sunday schools, to theatres, and to public places of all sorts. Let us send unvaccinated children to unvaccinated schools and have a few unvaccinated teachers to teach them."

"The law has been held good. The thing to do is to go to the Legislature. I think that there is still a legal remedy, although the courts have decided against us on previous cases."

Dr. Woodson Allen of Berkeley said: "It has never been scientifically demonstrated that vaccination has prevented smallpox. It has been shown that vaccination has repeatedly caused disease and death. No physician will assure a patient that vaccination will render him immune from smallpox, nor that it will not shatter his health. The law requiring it should be repealed."

Dr. Oberg of Lorin said: "I am opposed to vaccination because I consider it unsafe, in fact, dangerous, and attended with no certainty of good results, while it is positively known that in many cases it paves the way for scarlet fever, diphtheria, tuberculosis and many other diseases."

"The public schools are not for school boards, professors, teachers and health boards. They are for the people. Let the people get to work and repeal this obnoxious law, and then they can peacefully enjoy that which they have so literally created—public education."

Excellent speeches were also made by Mr. J. G. Wright, and J. S. Wilson of Berkeley, the latter especially delivering an able protest against vaccination, fortifying his position with facts, figures and arguments that can hardly be refuted.

WIFE OF TOWN TRUSTEE ALL
BUT TOOK THE ILL-FATED COLORADO EXPRESS.

BERKELEY, August 12.—By a fortunate and singular circumstance, Miss Morgan L. Ryder, wife of the town trustee, and Mrs. J. H. Baker narrowly escaped being victims of the railroad disaster in Colorado of Monday. The women missed being on the ill-fated train by a few seconds.

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Ryder had been visiting in the East. Mrs. Ryder went to Peoria, Illinois, where Mrs. Baker was living. They prepared to come West together. On their way West they only caught their train at one of the stations by the merest fraction of a second. The train was under way when the conductor saw the two women running from the station toward the track. He brought his train to a stop again in order that they might get on.

The next train that passed the station was the ill-fated Colorado Express. The Berkeley women would have taken this train, as their tickets would have honored on it. It was the conductor's error in bringing the train to a stop and putting up for the tardy passengers that saved them from being on the train that went through the bridge.

OCCIDENT CLUB TO GIVE A DANCE.

BERKELEY, August 12.—The Occident Club, composed of the senior boys of the West Berkeley College Settlement, will give a dance on August 20 in the gymnasium of the settlement. Great preparations are being made for the affair, which promises to be one of the most enjoyable ever given by the club. Elaborate decorations are being arranged for the hall.

COLLEGE MAN TO WED.

The marriage next Wednesday evening in Sacramento of George Benjamin Lorenzo, a graduate of the State University with the class of 1902 and a prominent member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, and Miss Alice Washburn, of the Capital city, will be the culmination of a love affair begun before Mr. Lorenzo entered the college. Miss Washburn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Washburn of Sacramento and has been a teacher in the kindergarten department of some Sacramento public schools for some time. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents, 1826 O street.

PORTER BROTHERS BANKRUPT.

CHICAGO, August 12.—Judge Kohlman in the United States District Court has entered the final order in the bankruptcy proceedings brought by creditors against Porter Brothers, one of the largest wholesale fruit dealers in the country, directing that the creditors whose claims had been proved be paid 24 per cent. The claims amount to $150,000.

SALOON LICENSE IS SOUGHT AF-TER LAPSE OF SIXTEEN YEARS.

BERKELEY, August 12.—After letting his application for a saloon license at the corner of Emerson and Adeline streets, rest in abeyance for sixteen years, J. Lenz has decided to renew the request. It is understood that the matter will come shortly before the Board. The place is located just ten feet or the other side of the mile limit prescribed by the State.

Lenz will not get his saloon license without a protest. Already a petition is being circulated asking the Board not to grant the license to establish the saloon. Further than this, there is an understanding among the trustees that no license will be granted for saloons north of Alameda avenue.

Lenz has not yet filed a formal application for a license with Town Clerk Merrill.

BERKELEY GIRL WEDS NEWSPAPER MAN.

BERKELEY, August 12.—One of the prettiest of the late summer weddings took place last evening when Miss Elsie Tade, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Tade, became the wife of Henry Dawson of Fresno.

The pretty home had been elaborately decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being pink and white. A large fish net in the upper part of the room was filled with delicate blossoms. The dining room was unusually pretty in soft green tints and deep red blossoms.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in a filmy creation of white tulle and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. Her father, Rev. Tade, performed the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives of the families were present.

The young couple left for a honeymoon trip in the Santa Cruz mountains, after which they will make their home in Fresno, where Mr. Dawson is engaged in newspaper work.

MEETS AN ACCIDENT IN PECULIAR MANNER

BERKELEY, August 12.—Miss Harriett Seebor, mother of Mrs. Philo Mills, is in a critical condition as the result of an unusual accident that she suffered at the home of her daughter a few days ago. Mrs. Seebor attempted to turn her body while standing, without moving her feet. In some unaccountable way this action caused a fracture of the right hip. The fracture is a severe one and Mrs. Seebor is now in a critical condition.

Mrs. Seebor is now 68 years of age and her recovery is a matter of doubt in the eyes of her physicians. She is being attended by Dr. Frank Woolsey.

HAS A FIGHT WITH A RATTLER.

BERKELEY, August 12.—Ralph Merrill, a student of the State University, who has just returned from a camping trip to the Itzeh Itzeh Valley, tells a tale of a hairbreadth escape from a huge rattler. Merrill is the son of Charles Z. Merrill of 112 Telegraph avenue, Oakland.

Tired out by a long tramp he sat down to rest one day and soon fell asleep. As he was thus unconscious of all danger a huge rattler slowly crawled up to him and coiled itself right about his neck and arms.

A little later, one of Merrill's companions was horror struck at seeing his friend. He retained his presence of mind, however, and put together his fishing rod gently prodded the snake.

The reptile buzzed its rattles shrilly and struck at the rod three times. The last time young Merrill awoke from his sleep and before the danger was latent he could coil again spring up and leaped to one side.

Both young men then proceeded to kill the rattler, but their ruses were so arranged that they were rembling all over when they had finished him. Merrill has bought back the snake's rattle as a memento of his terrible experience.

ST. LOUIS, August 12.—Word has been received in St. Louis that Prince Henry, of Prussia, his wife and eldest son, will leave Germany in two weeks for a tour of the United States, and will come after his arrival in New York directly to St. Louis.

The Prince is coming in state, and will be entertained in the most lavish manner during his stay here by Dr. Theodor Lewald, German Imperial Commissioner to the World's Fair.

Although an effort has been made to keep the matter quiet until the Prince's arrival, it is well known among the employees of the National German Exhibition that the Prince is coming. Dr. Lewald was notified of the proposed trip in a letter and has since communicated the fact to the Commissioners in St. Louis.

THIS BOOK TELLS OF SEAWEED.

UNIVERSITY PRESS GETS OUT A BOOK BY PROFESSOR WILLIAM A. SETCHELL.

BERKELEY, August 12.—The first attempt made in the world to give a complete account of the seaweeds of the north-western coast of North America was published as a volume of 450 pages, published at the University Press. It bears the title of "Algae of Northwestern America," and is the work of Professor William Albert Setchell, head of the department of botany, and Nathaniel Lyon Gardner, assistant in botany.

This book represents the work of a number of years. Its materials are in greater part the direct results of the personal studies in the field or the personal studies in the laboratory by the authors of the species described.

A description is given of all the species of seaweeds thus far found on the Pacific coast of North America from Cape Flattery, at the northwestern corner of Washington, northward along the coast to the region of Kotzebue Sound, on the Arctic coast of Alaska. Such of the Alaskan Islands and the islands in Bering Sea as belong to the United States are represented in this work. A description is given also of a number of species of algae found in fresh waters and damp places of the coast country.

The first collection in what Professor Setchell describes as the Upper Boreal region were made in the years from 1842 to 1845 by Steiler on the shores of Kamtschatka. The expedition most recently undertaken by Professor Setchell and his assistants, Professor W. L. Jepson, E. D. Merrill and A. Lawson, in the summer of 1899.

In addition to the full description of species the book includes a list of geographical names used with latitudes and longitudes provided by Professor Setchell, a bibliography, a copious index and eleven plates.

HISTORY WRAPPED ABOUT MUMMY CROCODILES.

Life in Egypt Described in Papyrus Unearthed in a Remarkable Manner by a Hearst Expedition.

BERKELEY, August 12.—A rich contribution to the world's knowledge of life in Egypt in the first and second centuries before Christ has been made by the University of California through its publication as a volume of 600 pages of the remarkable collection of papyrus found at Tebtunis, in Egypt, by the Hearst expedition. For both the expedition and the publication of the book science is indebted to M. S. Hearst.

The crocodile was worshiped in every village in the Fayum, throughout the Ptolemaic period. Upon the death of one of these sacred animals the Egyptian priests mummified the body and buried it ceremoniously. Dr. Bernard P. Grenfell and Dr. Arthur S. Hunt of Oxford, England, while excavating at Umm el Baragat for the University of California discovered the surprising fact that many of these crocodile mummies were wrapped in sheets of papyrus closely written in Greek characters. The long inscriptions on 200 or more of the papyrus from crocodile mummies have now been published by the University, both in the original Greek text and in translation. The texts are accompanied by elaborate notes, commentaries and indices, together with superb photographic reproductions of a number of manuscripts.

In the volume are literary fragments from lost Greek works, royal ordinances, official and private correspondence, petitions and documents throwing light upon Egyptian methods of land-survey, taxation, contracts and accounts.

A considerable proportion of these papyrus were written in the offices of Menches, who, from 120 to 111 B. C., held the office of Komogrammateus, or government scribe, at Kerkirasia. The Egyptian Government of his day, under the Ptolemies, was highly organized. Menches was one of the principal mediums of communication for the region in which he lived, and this collection in his official papers affords a detailed and instructive picture of the workings of Egyptian local government. The extraordinary fullness of the details given in these papyrus concerning the ownership, cultivation and taxation of lands belonging to the crown, the temples and military settlers vastly increase our knowledge of life and government in Egypt under the Ptolemies.

Two more bulky volumes will be required for the publication of the remainder of this wonderful collection of papyrus. The next volume to be issued will contain a number of papyrus of the Roman period, together with an account of the University's excavations in the Fayum and a description of the antiquities found. The third volume will contain a large quantity of papyrus of an earlier period, belonging mostly to the second and third centuries before Christ. Many of these papyrus have not as yet been unwrapped. The task of deciphering them is difficult because of the fragility of the papyrus and the effacement from twenty centuries of burial.

HIGH SCHOOL PETITION.

The petition for the proposed Union High School has been circulated thoroughly throughout Elmhurst and a sufficient number of signatures secured without difficulty. It is now being circulated in the other districts included in the territory to be covered by the high school.

PERSONAL MENTION.

S. T. Chapin was a visitor in Oakland yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rudy of Oakland were guests yesterday at the residence of James J. O'Toole, on Wall street.

F. Dillenbaugh is repairing his East Fourteenth street property, which will present a vastly improved appearance when completed.

Newton Gray is rustling at Byron Springs. He will be home in about a week.

Court Elmhurst, P. of A., spent Wednesday evening rehearsing for the minstrel show to be given in the near future.

The various participants in the entertainment are working into shape nicely and at the same time extracting considerable amusement from their practice. No doubt the show when it is given will prove a real success to those who attend, as several unique features not usually to be found in amateur affairs of this sort, are being planned.

REVIEWS OF BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

ELFIN SONGS.

Published at the Sign of the Live-Oak, Berkeley, written by Charles Keeler.—"Elfin Songs of Saland" come daintily bound in gray cloth, with delicate green edges, and typographically perfect. Presumably a book of songs for little folk, it has fulfilled its mission admirably and the breath of the wildwood it brings is refreshing, even to those who have long ago outgrown the tales and other childish things and journeyed out into this world of mingled cares and joys. Mr. Keeler may not be a Eugene Field, but he has certainly written a book that will please the tots and some of the grownups as well. It may be also mentioned that the decorations, which are in a great measure responsible for the charm of the little book are by Louise Keeler.

HEALTH CULTURE.

Of late years much more attention is being paid to physical health culture than in the past and hence the many periodicals devoted to the subject. Of these, probably the best is "Health Culture." The August number contains many valuable articles by authorities upon the cure of the human body. Published by Health Culture Co., New York.

CASSIERS.

"Cassier's Magazine" for August contains a well-illustrated article on "Mithras Shrine," by F. J. Green, and by Bryson Cunningham, B. S., which is well worth reading. Published by Cassier Co., New York.

LITERARY DIGEST.

The current number of the "Literary Digest" is exceptionally good and the articles upon topical subjects are just long enough to give the meat of the matter without tedious details. Published by Funk & Wagnalls Co., publishers, New York.

THE WORLD'S WORK.

The August "World's Work" is a special double exposition number and the pictures it contains of the Fair buildings and grounds, particularly those showing the illuminations, are marvels of the photographer's art. Published by Doubleday, Page & Co., New York.

LESLIES' WEEKLY.

"Leslies' Weekly" for this week is as usual replete with well illustrated articles upon affairs of the day. There are many good war pictures. Published by Judge Co., New York.

HARPER'S WEEKLY.

Men may die, nations fall, centuries come and go, but like the brood "Harper's" goes on forever. There is many a home in this country where the staid visitor for years and to not see it would be like missing an absent friend. It is needless to say that the current number is good—the pity editorial utterances are not the least of its many interesting features. Harper & Bros., publishers, New York.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.

The August number of the "North American Review" contains the usual quota of carefully written and masterly articles upon the affairs of the international and national. "The Baltic Fleet and the Northeast Passage," by Rear-Admiral G. W. Melville, U. S. N., is the leading article. Published by the North American Review Co., New York.

THE DELINEATOR.

A striking cover in colors on the "Delineator" depicting the old poem, "Maud Muller" will attract the eye of every searcher for literary food who glances over the news store counters. And temporarily ceases "taking hay" and turns to look after the young gentleman on horseback, within there are articles and stories and fashions to captivate the feminine heart. Published by Butterick Publishing Co., New York.

KENTZ GIVES UP STAR.

POLICEMAN WANTED TO MAKE FIGHT BUT RE-CONSIDERED.

Carl E. Kentz, the policeman who brought the department into disgrace at Shell Mound Park three weeks ago at a Scandinavian picnic has handed in his resignation as a police officer to the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners and it will be accepted this afternoon.

After the holiday affair Kentz was inclined to fight for his place although advised by Chief of Police Hodgkins that it would be better for him to resign. He employed Attorney Lin S. Church to represent him. He was unable to make even a good showing before the commission on his preliminary hearing and after being told in so many words by the commission that it was a case of being summarily dismissed or resign, he came to the conclusion that he had better ask to be allowed to once more become a civilian.

His previous good record as a patrolman was the only thing that saved Kentz from being dismissed without the privilege of resigning.

The question is left to the subordinate lodges for final decision on a referendum vote.

MRS. ELIZA COONEY GIVEN HER LIBERTY.

Upon the representation of friends that she would be sent to a sanitarium at St. Helena, Mrs. Elizabeth Cooney, who was restrained of her liberty upon the complaint of Miss Lillian Stahl, yesterday was released from custody this morning by Judge Ogden. She has been in a highly nervous state since the suicide of her husband, ex-Policeman Thomas V. Cooney, some time ago and lately has become possessed of the hallucination that people believe she was responsible for his death. She imagined that people were trying to dig under her house to get her and became so alarmed that it was thought best to have her sent somewhere so that she would be given the proper treatment. Friends came to her aid when they heard of her misfortune and have promised they will take care of her.

Co. has made arrangements for the annual meeting of the Pacific Association of Railway Surgeons, which is to be held in the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco on the 17th and 18th of this month. The organization comprises railway surgeons on the Pacific coast as far north as Washington and as far south as El Paso, Texas. There will be a representative gathering of the profession and distinguished members of it will read papers on a number of interesting subjects suggested by experience in practice. The chief on this side of the bay will be represented in papers, Dr. J. P. Dunn of this city will read a chapter on "Railway Amputations." Dr. T. C. McCleave of Berkeley will present for consideration a paper on "Railway Injuries," and Dr. B. Woodbridge of Oakland will discuss "Railway Hygiene." The meeting will be followed by a banquet at the St. Francis.

The officers of the association are as follows: Dr. W. B. Coffey, San Francisco, president; Dr. N. H. Morrison, Los Angeles, chief surgeon of Santa Fe Railway; Dr. C. N. Allen, San Francisco, second vice-president; Dr. K. A. J. McKnight, Portland, third vice-president; Dr. F. K. Alusworth, San Francisco, chief surgeon, Southern Pacific; Dr. J. P. WARFARE WITHOUT DEADLY BULLETS

This evening at 7 o'clock, Companies A and F, Fifth Infantry N. G. C., of this city, accompanied by G Company of the same regiment from Alameda, and the Sanitary Corps of the regiment, which is rated as the best in militia service in this State will leave for the camp of the regular army at Atascadero, San Luis Obispo county.

At the same time, Company I of Livermore, also of the Fifth Infantry, will leave home for the same rendezvous, going first to San Jose, where, for a couple of hours, they will be guests of E Company of the same command. Afterwards, they will board a special train for Atascadero.

To-morrow morning all the militia troops of California will be assembled at Atascadero, and in conjunction with regular troops of this department will undergo instruction in the active duty of soldiers in the field.

This is the first time that such a merging of regular and militia troops has taken place in this section. It has been brought about under the direct patronage of the United States Government and great benefits are expected from it in the matter of placing the citizen soldiery on the same plane as the regular in the event of war.

The Fifth Regiment will be under the command of Colonel John Hayes, formerly of this city, now of San Francisco. The Sanitary Corps will be under the direction of Surgeon J. P. Dunn, with rank of Major, of this city, who has devoted years to building it up, as also Assistant Surgeons R. H. Williams and Dukes.

DEATH OF MRS. SCHMIDT.

Mrs. Eliza Schmidt of 1203 Eleventh avenue died at her home last night, aged 74 years. She had resided in this city for the last thirty years. George Schmidt, a husband, survives her. The funeral will be held Sunday.

NOW.

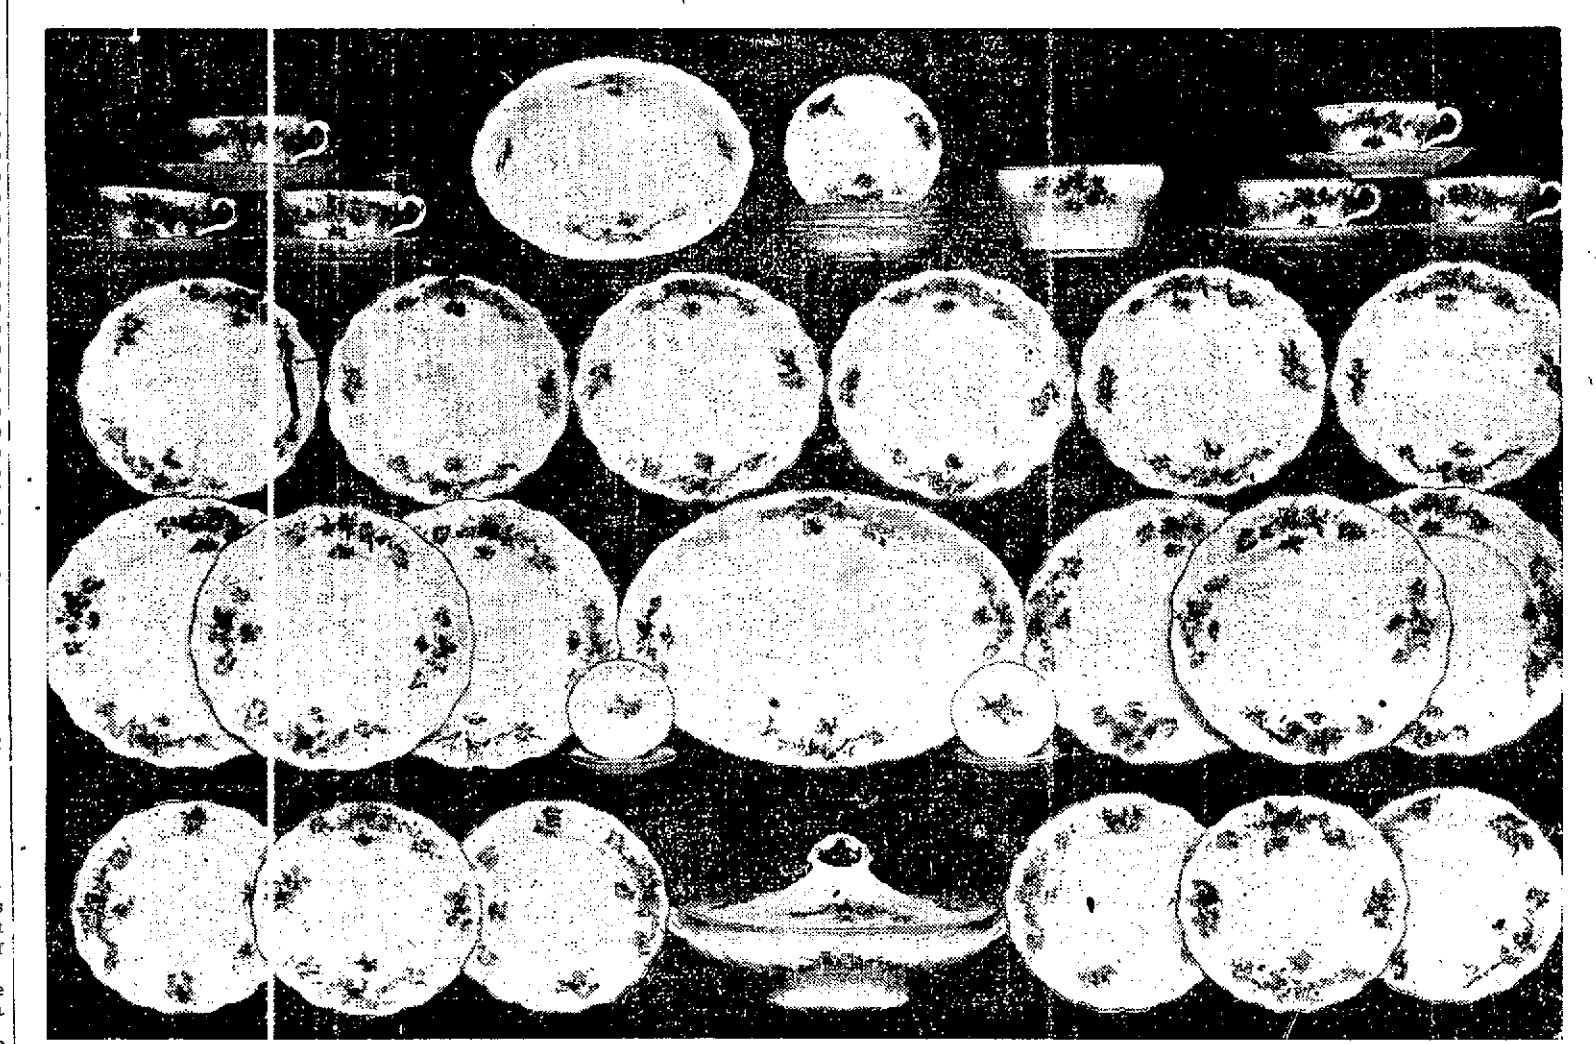

Have you any cheery greeting?
Tell it out today;
While you wait the friend and message
May have gone away.

Let the one who sighs for comfort
Feel a hand grasp true;
It will cheer the way and surely
Can't impoverish you.

We are all the time regretting
When it is too late,
And some heavy heart has broken
When we hesitate.

Lives are human, though so often
We disguise our pain;
Some are hungering for your comfort,
Give and give again.

WALEY AMONG MISSING

Friends or Police Cannot Locate the Clerk.

W. L. Waley, an employee of the Cur-tain Store at Fourteenth and Franklin streets, has disappeared under circumstances which have led his friends to believe that something of a serious nature has befallen him. His room rent at the Pacific House was paid up in advance and his employers were satisfied with his work. On Sunday last he disappeared and since then none of his friends have had tidings of him.

Inquiries at the police department led to an investigation being made. His rooms were searched.

Detective Holland, who is working on the case, reports the finding of a shirt sleeve on which there was blood stains. While there is nothing further to point to foul play, his friends are considerably worried and are anxiously awaiting developments.

The suit is brought by Judge R. B. Tappan for his client who alleges that for more than a year past Mrs. Ledyard has preferred to live alone and refuses to take up her abode with the plaintiff and he asks that the bonds of matrimony be set aside.

CHANGE IN STYLE OF HANDWRITING.

OPPOSED TO A ROOM THIEVES ARE DISTRIBUTION AT WORK

GRAND-DAUGHTER APPLIES TO COURT FOR SHARE OF ESTATE. THREE VICTIMS REPORT THEIR LOSSES TO THE POLICE.

An opposition to the final distribution of the estate of the late Eliza D. Atwill was filed with the courts this morning by Lillian D. Kellogg, a granddaughter of the deceased, who was omitted from mention in the will. The estate of the deceased was appraised at $15,211.40 and it is claimed by the contestant that she is entitled to one-fourth of the entire estate.

Eliza D. Atwill died in July of last year leaving money in bank to the amount of $16,000 and a house and lot, 50x100 feet on the west side of Jefferson street, between Eleventh and Ninth streets; sugar stock to the value of $7,500; jewelry and silverware valued at $1,300 and furniture to the value of $1,000. All of this property is to be divided between Mary J. Pinkerton, of this city; Sarah A. Kelch, of San Francisco; and Emmeline A. Bloomer, of San Francisco, the three daughters of the deceased, with the exception of a few small legacies.

As an heir, Lillian D. Kellogg claims one-fourth of the estate, the amount her mother, the late Eliza D. Reynolds, would have received as her share had she been alive. The answer made to this claim is that Lillian Kellogg was never a part of the estate and that she has received her just share and that her grandmother so thought and intentionally omitted to leave her any more.

The deceased was 55 years of age at the time of her death and the grand-daughter further alleges that, owing to old age, she was unintentionally omitted from mention in the will.

WILL MASSIE WAS NOT KIDNAPPED.

Ten-year-old Willie Massie, who was reported as kidnapped to the police was found yesterday afternoon playing in a vacant lot within a few feet of his home on Linden street by Patrolman Parlee.

It had been supposed by the boy's guardian, Jack Massie, that the child had been kidnapped by his mother, Nellie Massie of 644 Natoma street, San Francisco.

The boy says he was chased from the house by two men whom he described as "toughs." He said he slept in the lot because he was afraid to go home. He first told to Captain of Police Peterson that he had been driven from the house by two kidnapers.

CITY COUNCIL COMMITTEES DISCUSS IMPROVEMENTS

Matters of Interest to the Taxpayers Are Handled by the City Fathers.

The various committees of the City Council met last night and cleared up what routine business was before them.

The invitation from Mayor Cook May 1 of St. Louis to Mayor Olney for him and other city officials to attend the convention of the League of American Municipalities on October 12 at St. Louis was accepted by the Auditing and Finance Committee.

LICENSE INSPECTOR

A resolution giving the License Inspector $2 a month for transportation was recommended. It was also recommended by the Auditing and Finance Committee.

BILL BOARD SUITS

The communication of R. H. Davis who wished to know if there was anything doing in the suit now pending in the Superior Courts against the bill boards was referred to Assistant City Attorney O'Brien who said that the case was now before Judge Melvin.

There was no power which could be used said O'Brien whereby the city could hasten the decision.

CORPORATION YARDS

A resolution authorizing the purchase of two corporation yards for the storing of building materials at a cost not to exceed $500 in the annexed district was favorably recommended.

NEW PLUMBING ORDINANCE

The new plumbing ordinance over which the Board of Health has labored for a number of months was taken up by the Ordinance and Judiciary Committee last night.

City Clerk Thompson was directed to read a communication sent out by the Board of Health to the various master and journeyman plumbers asking them to join with the Board of Health in framing up a suitable plumbing ordinance. The communication states there is nothing particularly original in the local ordinance which was compiled from copies of similar ordinances procured for Portland, O., Los Angeles and other cities.

After reading the ordinance, Councilman Howard wished to know how the examination of applicants to become plumbers was to be held.

Health Officer Von Adelung—That has not been clearly defined. It is left to the Board of Health.

Howard—Should not it be made definite so that in event of prosecution there might be something to proceed?

Von Adelung—We thought that we might have plumbers on the Board of Examination to assist the members of the Board of Health.

Howard—Is that legal?

Von Adelung—That is a matter for the City Attorney.

Howard—There is another matter which I would like to call attention to. That is that a certificate should be issued to all plumbers both those who are in the business now and those who are to take examinations.

Von Adelung—I do not think you can pass in ex post facto law.

Howard—There is another thing that I would like to call attention to. That is the joint of 11 sewers should be enclosed in square casings of cement. This is followed in the East and is found to be very successful.

LABOR OPPOSED TO JUDGE PARKER.

TERRA HAUTE, August 12.—Eugene V. Debs, Presidential candidate of the Socialist party, in an interview today, said that in his opinion the laboring classes generally were opposed to Judge Parker. Among other things, Debs said: "The rank and file of the industrial parties of the country look upon the Democratic party as having been captured at the St. Louis convention by the Wall Street wing of the party and that, in the event of the party's success, the administration would be dominated wholly by that power and labor would look upon it with apprehension and distrust."

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

MRS. J. WALTER SCOTT ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT HER HOME.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. J. Walter Scott entertained a number of her friends at her home in this city, and it has been agreed by all those who were fortunate enough to attend, that the affair was one of the most delightful social events of the season. The affair was complimentary to Miss Florence Brown.

Mrs. Scott gave a short but interesting talk, telling of her experiences in Tahiti. The talk proved very interesting to the friends who were present, and they received considerable information from it. Mrs. Scott brought back with her some curios which were inspected with eager interest by the guests.

The decorations were suggestive of the Islands, consisting chiefly of stalks of bamboo, growing cocoanuts, and other tropical plants. At the conclusion of the recital, a very dainty repast was served, consisting mainly of Tahitian dishes. Coconut milk formed a part of the menu as did also a native coffee.

Mrs. Scott was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Elliott Barrington Davis, Mrs. M. J. Layman, Mrs. R. C. Craft, Mrs. Charles F. Rohrer of Santa Rosa and her mother, Mrs. Ryder.

The guests included Miss Florence Brown, Mrs. E. B. Davis, Mrs. Bert S. Hubbard, Mrs. George W. Fisher, Mrs. Ernest Boyes, Mrs. Edwin Boyes, Mrs. C. E. Downey, Mrs. W. W. Crane, Mrs. F. L. It is published by the California Commission to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and in the language of one of the contributors who says: "I have told everything just as I want it told. If I had in view a change of location, the truth is plenty good enough for anything concerning California." It is truthful and official.

AUTO MEN WIN THEIR CASE.

ESCAPE PAYING LICENSE FOR MACHINES BECAUSE OF ILLEGAL ORDINANCE.

CHICAGO, August 12.—Four hundred automobilists have won freedom from new ordinance requiring drivers of motor cars to secure a license from the city, to place numbers on the machines used, and to pay the fees provided.

The victory was won by the Chicago Automobile Club, when Judge Haney granted a temporary injunction against the city. The order went into effect immediately and the writs were served at once.

Each member of the club was named in the petition, signed by John Farnson, the president, to have the writs issued. The writ enjoins "the city of Chicago and its board of automobile registry and all agents, employees, attorneys and policemen from arresting, prosecuting, suing, or in any manner interfering with, annoying, or molesting the complainants for failing to comply with the ordinance."

It is contended that the ordinance, introduced on June 27, is unconstitutional, and it is asked that the writ be made permanent. Particular objection is taken to those sections requiring applicants for licenses to have free use of both ears, good eyesight, good hearing, to be free from heart disease and not addicted to the excessive use of alcoholic liquors.

LIVELY BOUT AT THE MACDONOUGH.

There are but three more performances of the Hon. John North at the Macdonough Theatre and no one who loves a good, hearty laugh or cares to see a clever exhibition of boxing can afford to miss this clever play. L. R. Stockwell ably assisted by Jimmy Britt and a very excellent company, provide the one and Jimmy Britt with the assistance of his brother and manager, Willie, are responsible for the other. The three-round scientific physical culture demonstration, to use the phrase that originated in the voluminous vocabulary of Messrs. Stockwell and Britt's publicity promoter's thinking, is by no means a tame affair. In fact those who row claim that there never was in the city of Oakland a more exciting game than that which the Britt brothers nightly put up. The ladies seem particularly interested for it is not very often that they have the opportunity to see such an exhibition.

There will be a matinee tomorrow to watch children will be admitted to any seat in the house for 10 cents and adults for 25 cents. In addition to the regular 10c price for such an excellent entertainment, $10 in cash will be given away to the three children who hold the lucky seat coupons and the drawing will be held over to the afternoon after the second act. Seats are now on sale for all the remaining performances and the evening prices are the ever popular, 15c, 25c, 35c and 50c.

CHARGED WITH EXTORTION.

NEW YORK, August 12.—Giuseppe Massaro, 32 years of age, and his brother Philippo, aged 23, both tailors, with a shop in East Third street, have been locked up at police headquarters on a charge of extortion. They are accused by Ruggiero Nicotina, a barber, of sending him two letters signed "Black Hand," demanding $4000 or the lives of himself and three children. Nicotina turned the letters over to the police and a trap was laid. Nicotina paid $330 to Giuseppe Massaro, one of the alleged representatives of the society and the police claim to have captured him in the act of receiving the money, which was marked. Philippo was arrested at his home later. The brothers are Sicilians and have been less than a year in this country. Both have membership in the Black Hand Society and complicity in the attempted extortion.
